The Dead

Blow out, you bugles, over the rich Dead
There's none of these so lonely and poor of old,
But, dying, has made us rarer gifts than gold.
These laid the world away; poured out the red
Sweet wine of youth; gave up the years to be
Of work and joy, and that uphold serene
That men call age; and those who would have been,
Their sons, they gave, their immortality.

—Rupert Brooke.

Foreword

AS THE school year once more draws to a close, it is at the same time an honor and a privilege to obey the Editor's mandate and to write a final message to the students who are bidding farewell to C.C.I.'s halls. Inasmuch as the "ANALECTA" is annually dedicated to our graduating classes, it seems fitting that this message should be addressed largely to them.

Three years ago, or in some cases four, you began your careers in Senior High School. To many of you your High School days have been stepping-stones to further educational attainment. Universities, Nursing Schools, Normal Schools, Business Colleges beckon you, and you are planning on further training . . . training that will enable you to play your part more adequately in the war effort both at home and abroad. Some of you will undoubtedly be joining the Services as soon as you graduate, picking up the "torch" that has been thrown to you by more than five hundred former students who have preceded you. Still others will soon be actively engaged in essential industries, if not at home . . . somewhere. Whatever be your plans for the future, all of you face a world of confusion and chaos, and your responsibilities are heavy. While that is true, it is also true that you are entering on your new careers at a time when there is more hope for the future than at any other time in the world's history. There have been, and there will be, "blood, sweat and tears", but through the gloom there shines the promise of the end of the conflict and ultimate victory. Yours is the task to aid the victory and to win the peace, and we feel confident that you will bravely meet the challenge and nobly play your part in the days that lie ahead. Some day "the lights will come on again all over the world".

As you graduate from High School, we congratulate you upon your preferment, and we wish you all success, no matter where our lot be cast. Of the high achievements of some of you we shall be justly proud; of the kind and gracious lives of all of you . . . we hope . . . we shall be prouder still. Good-bye and good luck!

F. D. WEIR,

Principal.

Valedictory

THE PROLOGUE is over, the Introduction done, and the music swells to herald the rising of the curtains that will bring to our view a new world, a new realm. But let us stop the music. Let us stay the curtains. Let us, at this, our graduation ceremony, look back a moment before we turn to meet the brave new act. We that are young are little inclined to retrospect—our gaze is ever ahead. But it well befits us to pause now and consider that which has gone before, never to return. Gone forever are those strange first days, gone the thrill of the first High School party or the first rugby game; gone the hours of study, fun and friendship. Never again will these halls be "our" halls, or these teachers "our" teachers in quite the same way. Never will we one hundred and twenty-six graduates be so closely associated one with another as we now are. The days of childhood and early youth are gone; the dear golden years are dead, and we mourn them not without pain. We stand now, no longer children, but young adults, on the brink of the future.

What will the rising curtains reveal? No one can say; for the Future has a way of keeping her countenance hidden from the eyes of the inquiring Present. We can only guess dimly what shall stand revealed when our roles have been played, our stories finally told. One thing is certain: our paths which formerly ran very nearly parallel now separate, each seeking its own course. For some, the paths may lead into the dark places of war and death; others may climb the steep ascent which leads to University; still others will follow the paths that lead into the business centres of the world. We may be scattered far over the face of the earth. But whatever we are, wherever we are, let us never forget the splendid training we have received at Central, nor the dreams we have had of the parts we shall play in the building of the brave new world which shall emerge after a just and glorious peace.

Now is the time of parting and farewell, and I fancy that as we prepare to quit forever these old familiar halls, the brooding stone building is saying to us, "Go forth, young men and women! Stick to your dreams! Fight for your dreams! You will need patience; for remember that Man is slow to change; that the upward trek of the human race towards that Supreme Perfection is a slow, though steady climb. But remember, too, that yours is the task sublime to build Eternity in Time. Go now. I am watching with pride."

We turn away regretfully. But our eyes are shining, our hearts aflame. You shall be proud of us!

—ELEANOR WHITBREAD.

Valedictory

STEPHEN LEACOCK declares that graduation means "that the recipient of instruction is examined for the last time in his life, and is pronounced completely full. After this, no new ideas can be imparted to him. This July, for many of us, may be the last exam of our lives, and our teachers would swear that no new ideas could be imparted to us, but most of us are not completely full.

Now, we review the past three years and ask ourselves what we have gained at High School, how we are better fitted for life, and whether our time here has been of real advantage. I will answer these questions, and I am confident that my answers are those of every graduate, this year and every year.

We have acquired the spirit of democracy by gaining the one true freedom—liberty of mind. Our subjects, although much of the information they gave us is completely forgotten, have formed the mental habits of concentration, logical reasoning, and broadness of view. Some subjects have given us training which will be indispensable in whatever professions we may choose; all of them have helped to mature our minds.

We came here from the circus of Junior High, carefree, irresponsible, and rather childish. Under the firm but far from harsh discipline of this school, we have learned to control ourselves, to act more like adults than infants. Our teachers, with immeasurable long suffering and interested attention, brought us to think seriously about ourselves and our world. Our classes stimulated our minds to further growth. As a result, we have now put away childish things, and are worthy of adult responsibilities.

During our stay here, we have both enjoyed and profited from our association with the staff of C.C.I. The interest, hard work, endurance, and tolerance they have spent on us have produced much more good than we have acknowledged. Although our gratitude cannot gush, it will trickle steadily from our hearts throughout our lives.

Among ourselves, we have had much fun and merriment, but we have also done much serious thinking. High School students think much more and about much deeper things than teachers or parents realize, as a careful listener around the halls and cloakrooms would discover. Politics, economics, women, religion, military science, women, philosophy, and women, are all discussed. For some reason, the last topic is the most popular.

We may be happy that in this year, our last here, thanks to Mr. Churchill, Central has discovered that it has a school spirit. That spirit is not mob enthusiasm, although, as the track meet showed, mob rule has prevailed—with provocation and on occasion—and wounds—not ours—have been

Another Analecta

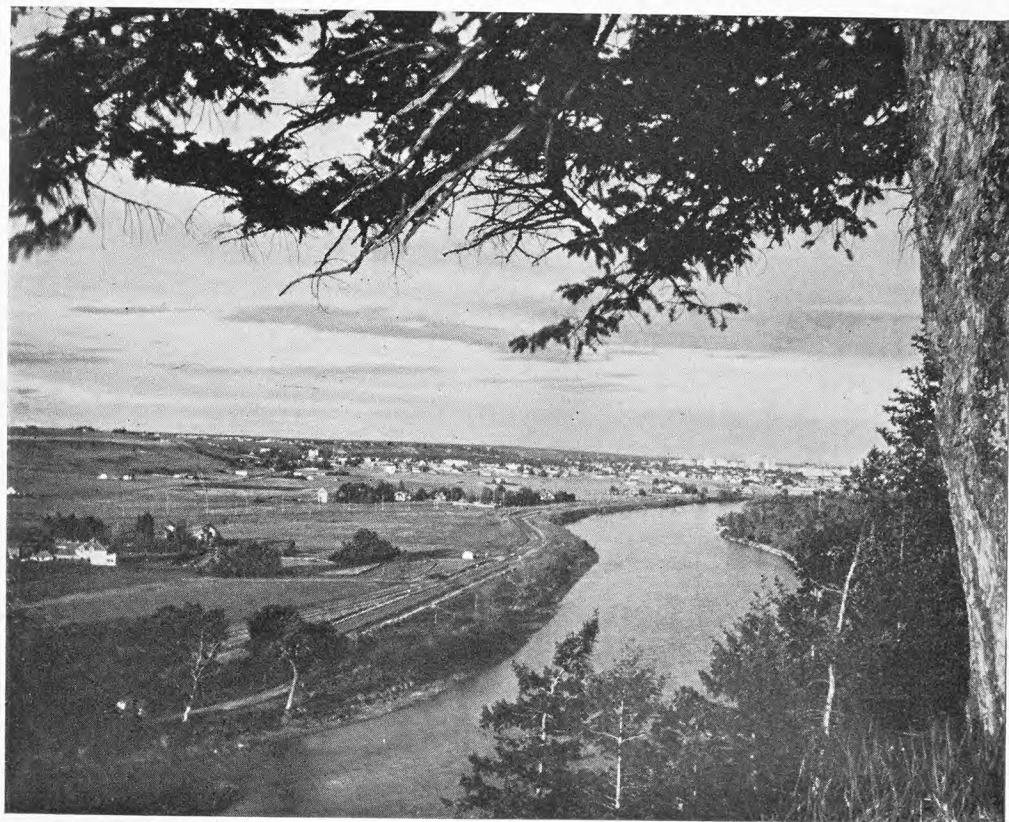

IT HAS ever been the object of the Analecta Staff to supply the students with as fine an edition as possible. As another Analecta leaves the presses, we lean back and trust that this task has been fulfilled.

To the boys and girls, who worked hand in hand with me, to make the Analecta a success, I wish to extend my sincere appreciation. Especially to Mr. Weir and Miss Kaulbach, whose continual interest and well-needed advice was accepted gratefully at all times, I would like to say "Thank You."

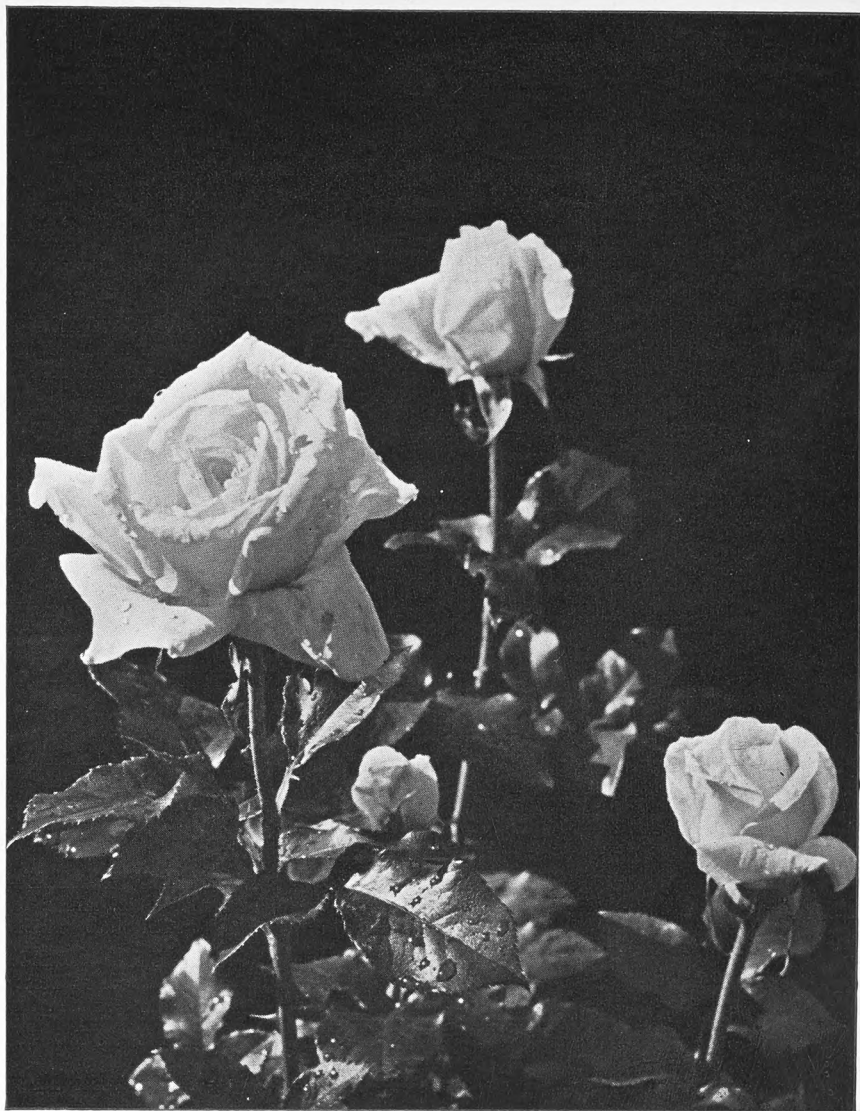

Central High School has long maintained a high standard, a standard that is the envy of the other schools in the city. We hope that this 1944 Year Book reflects that standard, not by a meagre gathering of articles, nor by a superfluity of material, but by a clear-cut, concise record of a year's activities of the students to whom it is dedicated.

Editor.

ECHOES

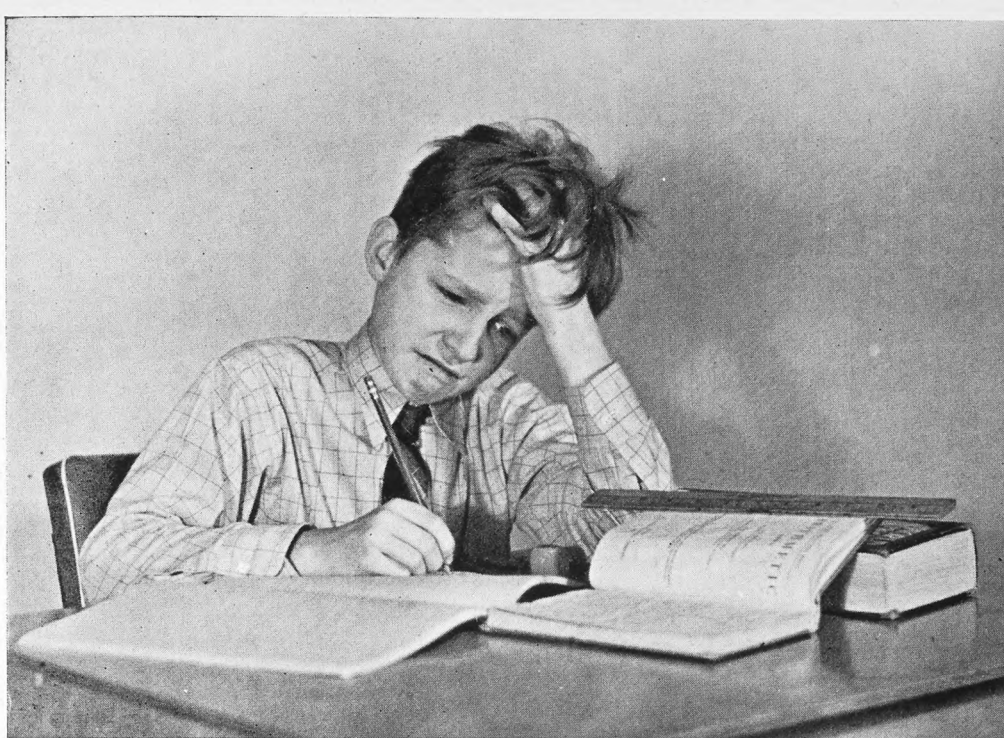

Down these same crowded halls
Marched the legions gone before
They once were carefree pupils
Now they have gone to war.
The desks are scarred with various
Initials thin and wide
The Nurse and Squadron Leader's
Are carved in side by side.
The feet that along these corridors
Their cheerful way have trod,
Were first on the beaches at Dieppe
First in the presence of God.
The books are thumbed and dogeared
The covers stained and torn,
By soldier's, sailor's, airman's hands
Their faithful pages worn.
Theirs has been the sacrifice
They are pleading from the past,
Through ink spots, scarred initials,
"Make this a peace to last."

—B. MacGregor.

licked. Our real school spirit is a tradition of thoroughness in work, fairness in play, and good sportsmanship in all things. It, with all its shades and quirks, has been built by all the students who have preceded us, and we ourselves have contributed to it. We shall be very proud to carry this spirit with us into our future.

Confident and ready, we graduate from our school, with one sentiment in our hearts, and one realization in our minds. As Walt Whitman phrased it, "It is provided in the essence of things that from any fruition of success, no matter what, shall come forth something to make a greater struggle necessary."

Central Seniors Are Interscholastic Champs.

Central Seniors this year brought the Interscholastic Senior Basketball Title to Central. The team was a well rounded, hard fighting, sharp-shooting aggregation which proved to be superior to the other teams in the league. Certain players were outstanding. To be specific, Ted Wilkins, George Morrison, Jack Tempest, Gordon Hogarth, and Murray Tempest, all of whom played brilliantly whenever they were on the floor.

The Senior Interscholastic Basketball league officially got under way on Feb. 4th with Central opposing Crescent "A". Central lost this first game to Crescent 25 to 18, but gave a good account of themselves.

In the second game, Central got down to business and took Crescent "B" to the tune of 32 to 9, paced by Hogarth and Wilkins who hit the hoop three times each, with Hogarth adding a free shot.

Central's third game was also against Crescent "B" and Crescent put up a better fight this time as Central only beat them 32 to 28. Morrison, with ten points, paced the Central team. However, the team played very well with great team-work being the deciding factor.

On Feb. 17th Central finished up on top of the long end of a 37 to 27 victory over Crescent "A". Hogarth, Wilkins and Jack Tempest led the scoring parade for Central.

Next came two games against Western, one on the night of Feb. 18th which saw Western come from behind in the dying minutes of the game and score two quick baskets to nose out Central 36 to 34. Wilkins, Hogarth and Morrison played a stellar game for Central.

The other game, on Feb. 24th, at Central, saw the Seniors thoroughly trounce Western by the score of 37 to 11. Smooth play and good team-work led to the defeat of Western by such a score. Ted Wilkins and Ron Robinson paced the Central Quintet.

Starting the second half of the league schedule, Central opposed Western once more and again took Western to camp with a score of 42 to 26. Ted Wilkins and Jack Tempest were top scorers in this game as Central's smooth passing and fine team-work was too much for Western and Central had it pretty much their own way.

March 3rd—Central vs. Crescent "B". This game was another Central triumph as they overwhelmed Crescent 23 to 9, with Morrison and Wilkins the leading scorers.

March 6th—Central played their last game against Western and trounced them by a score of 40 to 23. Hogarth and Wilkins hit the twine five and four times respectively to lead Central to their brilliant victory over Western.

March 15th was the next game in which Central partook, and their opposition was Crescent "A". Central was hard pressed, but managed to come through in the clinches and win by a score of 30 to 26. Wilkins was the big gun in this game with 11 points, followed by Hogarth with 7.

Back Row—Gordie Hogarth, Ian Brown, Ronnie Robinson, Dave Tomlinson.
Centre Row—Murray Tempest, Mr. Weir, Mr. Buchanan, Mr. Goodwin (Coach), Harry Hobbs.

Senior Interscholastic Champions

On March 16th, against a highly improved Crescent "B" team, Central managed to eke out a slim 18 to 15 win over the North Hill Quintet with Ted Wilkins leading the scoring with 8 points.

The last game of the League was played against Crescent "A" and Central trounced Crescent 34 to 14 to come out on top of the League. Doug. Brown was particularly brilliant in this game, leading his team-mates with 11 points, followed by Wilkins and Morrison with 7 and 6 points respectively.

The final League standing was as follows:

	Won	Lost	Tied	Points
Central	10	2	0	20
Crescent "A"	8	4	0	16
Western	6	6	0	12
Crescent "B"	0	12	0	0

Sports

Thus, Central, being the League leaders, opposed the second place Crescent "A" team in the final for the Senior Interscholastic Championship.

The first game of the finals was played at Crescent Heights on March 24th where a strong Crescent team came from behind in the second half to win by a score of 24 to 17 over Central. The Central team put up a good fight and, led by Wilkins with 6 points, were ahead at half time, but Crescent came back strong in the second half to overcome Central's early lead.

The second game was played at Central on March 28th. It was a closely fought game all the way with both sides sharing the lead at various intervals. At the half, Central was ahead 12 to 4, but in the second half Crescent started to hit the hoop with everything and when about one minute was left to play, Crescent was ahead 19 to 18. Then, on two quick baskets by Hogarth, Central regained their lead, but Crescents, always a threat, came right back to sink another basket. Five seconds later the whistle blew and Central was on the winning end of a 22 to 21 score.

In the third game, at Western, Central had it all their own way, and with Murray Tempest, Ted Wilkins and George Morrison leading the Central scorers, Crescent got in deeper and deeper. In this crucial game Central showed themselves to the best of advantage by their smooth passing plays and co-operative team-work. At the final whistle Central's tired, beleaguered team were the champs, emerging on the long end of a 32 to 22 score.

Jack Munson—Guard—Jack, another tall fellow, while he didn't play all season, was a dangerous threat whenever on the floor. He showed to good advantage on his set-shots and in jumping for rebounds.

Bill Pullar and Allan Bray—who played guard and forward position respectively, were of high calibre in their shooting and playmaking, and should prove to be of good value to forthcoming teams of next year.

Lou. Goodwin—Coach—Much credit is to be given to Mr. Goodwin for the fine way in which he worked so diligently with the boys and coached them to become such a smart, well-rounded, smooth-playing, co-operative team; also for the way in which he gave his time to both teams, Senior and Junior, in order that they might gain a little more practice and experience.

Junior Interscholastic Basketball

The Juniors had a good year although not as successful as they hoped. In the final league standing, they were in a second-place tie with Western "A". The one fault the Juniors had was that they started rather slowly and ragged during the first half, but began the second half like a new team and occasionally their starting too late proved to be their downfall. Coupled with this was the hard luck they had on their shooting.

In the first game of the semi-finals, Central lost to Western by a score of 24 to 20. This game was played at Central. The second game at Western saw a new Central team take to the floor, and, led by Parberry, who scored 16 points, Central downed Western 26 to 10.

Centre Row—Ted Allison, Jim Allen, Stan Bremner, Pete Simon.

Junior Interscholastic Team

The third and deciding game, was played at Crescent Heights. Here the Juniors, due mainly to a week lay-off, were beaten by Western 27 to 10. It was a close checking game, with Western coming out on top.

Some very smart players were seen on the Junior line-up, such as John Parberry, who was brilliant on shots of any kind; Stan. Bremner, a good shooting, fast, back-checking forward; Don. McIlroy, who played a good game at guard; Pete Loughheed, who also played a smart game at guard; Ross Lawson, a good shooting forward; Jim Allen, a smart centre; and Bud Milner, another smart, hard-checking guard.

FINAL STANDING

	Won	Lost	Tied	Points
Crescent	8	3	1	17
Central	7	5	0	14
Western "A"	7	5	0	14
Western "B"	1	10	1	3

Western "A" won the City Junior Interscholastic Championship when they defeated Crescent two games straight.

Back Row—Dave Tomlinson, Mr. Goodwin (Coach), Howie McDiarmid, Jack Smith.

Senior House League Basketball

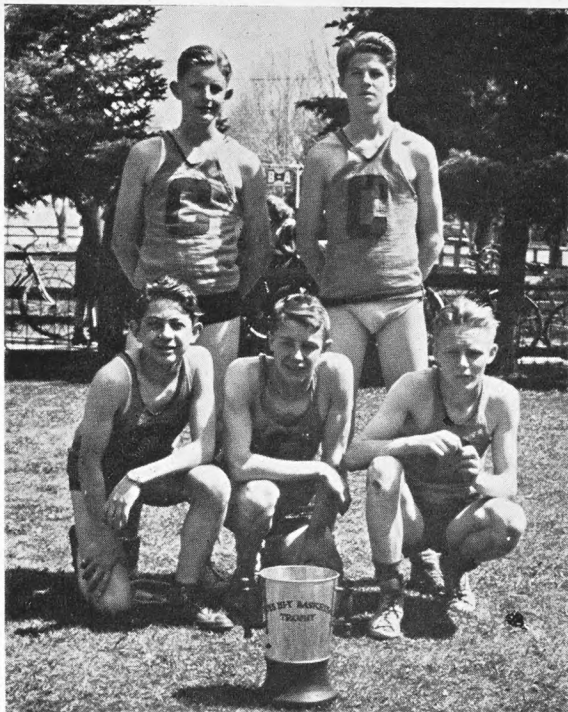

In the Senior House League, there were only four teams this year due to the shortage of players, and each team played nine games.

The four captains were George Morrison, Ted Wilkins, Don Webber and Murray Tempest. The Senior League was a closely contested race for top position, and at the final whistle of the final game, George Morrison's team was on the top rung by a margin of only one point over the second place team of Ted Wilkins. In the semi-finals game, which was a sudden death game, Tempest ousted Wilkins 35 to 27. At the final whistle of the final game which spelled "finis" for the Senior House League for this year, George Morrison and his team-mates had come out on top but they managed to eke out only a slim 20-19 victory over Tempest, who put up a stellar fight all the way.

Morrison received the Osborne Trophy, emblematic of Senior House League leadership, for his victory over Tempest in the finals.

Junior House League Basketball

The Junior League was composed of four teams. The four Captains were MacGregor, Peel, Loughheed and Fox. Some very good players were uncovered in the Junior League: Parberry, Milner, Bremner, Loughheed and Lawson.

The Junior race for the League Title was very close and hotly contested. MacGregor and Loughheed tied for first place at the end of league play, but MacGregor had a better scoring average than Loughheed and so he was given a bye into the finals.

In the semi-finals game, Loughheed trounced Peel to the tune of 26 to 14, and Loughheed faced MacGregor in the finals.

The final game saw Loughheed's team, led by Parberry and Loughheed, over-run MacGregor to take the final game by the score of 15 to 9. MacGregor put up a good fight to the end, but Loughheed's team was a little too strong for them. Loughheed received the Ice Cream Can Trophy, emblematic of leadership in the Junior division.

THUNDERHEAD

This picture is a graphic illustration of the elements in action. It shows a loosing of the dynamic forces of nature in one vengeful outburst. Storm and sunshine may be dramatically compared to war and peace. Storms are the primitive forces of the army of the heavens. This photograph shows a clear sky intermittently broken and distorted by storms as the earth is by the desolation of war.

THE CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL CADET CORPS

The Central High School Cadet Corps started this year under Mr. Goodwin, late in November, due to the late opening of school. The corps had an enlisted personnel of sixty-three cadets, but during the course of the year some of the boys dropped out, leaving the present strength at fifty-two.

UNIFORMS

At the beginning of the year all cadets were issued with regulation cadet uniforms with the exception of boots. The 2nd (R) Btn. Calgary Highlanders, with whom the corps is affiliated, supplied the cadets with the traditional Glengarry and the regulation Highlander lanyard. Later on in the year the cadets were issued with greatcoats. Proficiency chevrons were given out in February to each cadet showing the class to which he belongs.

RIFLE TEAM

During the year a rifle competition was held between each cadet corps in the city, including the Alberta Military Institute Cadets. Central again had one of the top teams, coming a close second to Crescent Heights High School. Major W. Baker was presented with the Strathcona Trust Badge for the highest scorer during 1943.

CADET EQUIPMENT

During the year a great deal of equipment arrived for the cadets. Twenty-four cadet rifles, new signalling lamp, regulation army rifle and first aid equipment were a few of the items received by the Central Cadet Corps this year.

PARADES

Colonel Ross invited the cadets to a theatre party when the corps became affiliated with the Highlanders. Later on in the year, the cadets attended the annual Highlander church parade at Knox Church, and, after having dinner at the Armouries, watched and took part in an impressive presentation of pipes and drums to the unit. All the cadet corps of the city were taken to a show and church parade during May and April. Representatives of the corps took part in a Victory Loan Parade together with Navy and Air Cadets. A dance was held at Western Canada High School for all Army Cadets and invitations were sent out to each of the other cadet units.

Students' Council

Mr. Weir (Hon. President), Mr. Pulleyblank (Hon. Vice-President),
Rex North (President), Evelyn Wheatley (Secretary), Bob Watson (Treasurer),
Jean Mair (Vice-President).

Council Highlights

The first meeting of the Students' Council was held early in January, and the executive, with the exception of the president, was elected. The three candidates for president: Rex North, Doug Brown and Jack Munson, presented their platforms at an Assembly prior to the election. Rex North led the field over the other nominees and was duly installed as head of the Council.

Two "After-four Shags" were promoted by the Council, while the evening dances were sponsored by the different rooms. The first Shag, "Four O'Clock Jump", was held on Feb. 9, and the second, "The Bunny Boogie", was held on March 29. Both were well attended and definite successes. The Council also shared in promoting the inter-school dance, "Combined Operations".

This year the Council obtained crests for the basketball team, and presented letters to the Lettermen.

The Council wishes to extend a vote of thanks to the Miss Canadas for their excellent job in selling War Savings Stamps, and to the student body as a whole for their co-operation and enthusiasm, in all activities.

Weeper

Only six editions of the Weeper were printed this year due to the fact that we were late starting school. In spite of this, each copy exceeded the other in interest and amusement. The circulation was the highest the Weeper has ever had, with four hundred and sixty students or nearly 98% of the student body subscribing. This definitely proves that it was of a high standard.

Don Duff was the able head of the staff, and besides guiding them through many difficulties, wrote a series of interesting and helpful editorials. The Clubs, Sports, and Fashions were aptly handled, while the Features were well presented and amusing. The Art was very well done and drew many a chuckle from the reader.

This is the Weeper's fourteenth year—"For Central, First, Last and Always."

Miss Canadas

Under the competent direction of Jean Mair, a group of fifteen Miss Canadas sold War Savings Stamps this year. One girl was assigned to each room to canvass the students on war stamp days.

During the year there were six stamp drives in all. On the whole, the response was excellent, although occasionally sales lagged. The thousand dollar mark was reached on June 9th.

The Committee would like to thank students and staff of Central for the splendid support received from them. They would also like to thank the National War Finance Committee for their co-operation in helping to make the drive a success.

Dances

ROOM FOUR RIOT . . .

The first dance of the year was held on January 22nd and was sponsored by Room Four. Don Ross was a competent Master of Ceremonies, and with the four swing-mad-men: Leo Pulos, John Campbell, Jack Kronhaus and Russ Melby entertaining, the dance was off to a flying start. The Tumbling Club then presented an excellent display of pyramids, rolls, back jumps and dives. Eleanor Whitbread and Fred Fenwick next presented a "version" of Truth and Consequences, which was amusing to say the least. The Room Four Riot was well attended and a bang-up success.

FOUR O'CLOCK JUMP . . .

On February 9th, the Students' Council presented their first dance of the year. By popular demand it was an after-four "Shag" with music provided by the G.D.Z. There were a number of prizes awarded to the winners of the elimination and spot dances. All in all, the Four O'Clock Jump was a definite success.

BASKETBALL BOUNCE . . .

At the conclusion of the basketball games between Central and Western and Central and Crescent on March 3rd, Room Two held a dance. It was well attended and the high spirits over winning the senior game overflowed and made the event a very enjoyable one.

BUNNY BOOGIE . . .

This was the second dance presented by the Students' Council and the second after-four "Shag" this year. Headed by Dodie Yule, the committee in charge did a fine job. Although there was a slightly smaller crowd than usual, the dance was a very enjoyable one and a great success.

MAIRZY DANCE . . .

The Mairzy Dance, put on by Rooms Five and One, was the last "Shag" of the year. Before a crowd of about four hundred students, a gala stage show in two parts was presented. With Frank Eckersley as M.C., Act One got under way with the "Central Barefoot Philharmonic" giving out with "Dixieland Special". June Arney then gave an excellent tap dance to the tune of "G.I. Jive". Act Two opened with a riotous skit by Messrs. Esdale and Hyde along with the Horse!! (North and Ross). Bill Wooley-Dodd gave an amusing recitation, and in closing, Doug. Randle did a fine job at the piano. Dancing then continued, and it was felt that due to the hard work of the committee in charge, it had been a very enjoyable evening.

COMBINED OPERATIONS . . .

In co-operation with the other high schools, the Students' Council helped promote "Combined Operations", which was held in the Western Auditorium on May 5th. There was a large crowd in attendance and everyone enjoyed dancing to the music of Jerry Fuller.

Assemblies

GRADUATION DANCE . . .

This year the Graduation Dance was held on June 15th under the auspices of the Home and School Association. With Johnny Blachly and his orchestra providing the music, the dance was an unqualified success. The graduating students wish to give the "Home and School" a vote of thanks for making their last dance at Central such an enjoyable one.

Assemblies

Mount Royal Junior Symphony.

On March 30th, the Mount Royal Junior Symphony Orchestra played before an Assembly of the Staff and Students of Central and of St. Hilda's School for Girls.

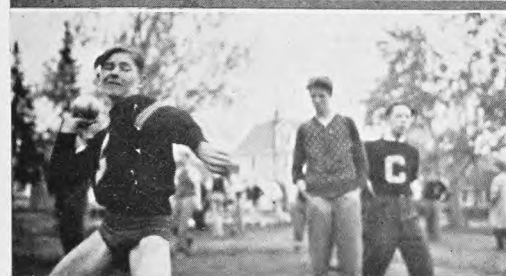

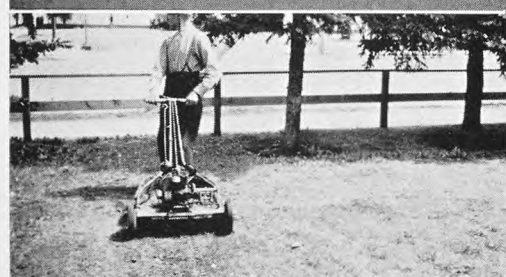

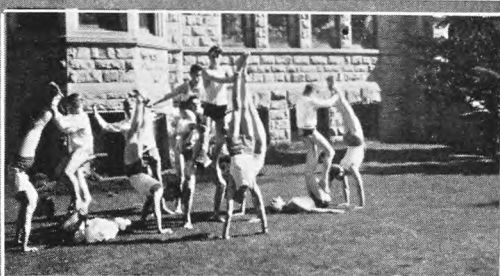

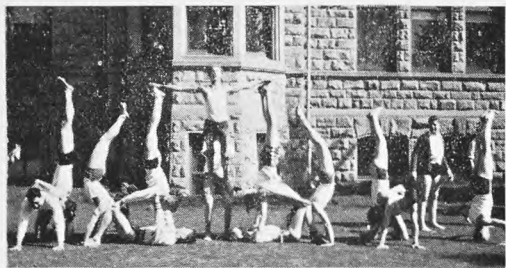

Mr. Galperin gave a short talk on the symphony and music appreciation in connection with young people. The programme started off with Rossini's Overture to the Barber of Seville, followed by Strauss' Tales from the Vienna Woods, and Chausser's Spanish Melody. Lastly, Jean Patterson sang Grieg's "Solveig's Song".

The Orchestra played with dexterity and the selection was lovely. The programme was enjoyed by everyone, and it is to be hoped that we shall hear more of the Junior Symphony in the future.

Cancer Control.

At an Assembly on April 5th, Dr. W. H. McGuffin gave a brief lecture on the control of cancer. Dr. McGuffin, who is Past President and Director of the Alberta Association for the Control of Cancer, gave us some idea of the causes and symptoms of this disease. He stressed the fact that if cancer were discovered soon enough and the proper treatment given, it could be cured. The talk was most interesting and gave us a clear idea of the progress being made in the research for the cause of cancer.

On April 11th, before the assembled Staff and Student Body, Lieut. W. R. McIntyre, R.C.A., and Flt. Lt. D. J. MacRae, R.C.A.F., each gave a short talk to help promote the sale of War Stamps. Lieut. McIntyre and Flt. Lt. MacRae have both just returned from Overseas and they told us some of their experiences. They stressed the fact that we, as well as the enemy, have losses. To make up these losses, the people at home must buy all the stamps and bonds they can. In closing, Mr. H. A. McNeill, supervisor of War Savings for the Province, lauded Central for their efforts in the sale of stamps, and urged us to continue our good work.

School Choir

Under the direction of Mrs. Williams, the regular School Choir consisted of over thirty girls, who sang at Assemblies. However, there was another choir of thirty-seven, chosen from Central and Western, and composed of ex-music students and a few taking Music 1 and 2.

On April 26th, the girls sang four Russian songs, one in Russian, for the Calgary Women's Musical Club, and were very enthusiastically received. This same group sang at the Calgary Demonstration Festival, and received warm applause.

The Choir assisted at the Graduation ceremonies, and one of the numbers was the ever beautiful "Ave Marie" by Schubert.

School Orchestra

The Central Orchestra, conducted by Mrs. Williams, was small this year, but what it lacked in numbers was made up in enthusiasm. Everyone was agreeably surprised when they heard the Orchestra play at the Graduation Ceremonies. At that time it was augmented by other musicians drawn from the students at the school.

The personnel of the orchestra was as follows: Berte Chester, June Arney, Gordon McConkey, Maryon Robertson, Phyl Tinney, Don Heimbecker, Ernie McCubben, Clarisse Shankman, Ben Chetner, Russel Melby. The pianist was Donna Desson.

The Home and School Association

The Home and School Association, ever aiming at better co-operation between home and school, has again completed a most successful year under the leadership of its President, Mrs. Miles Robinson and her able executive. Throughout the season they have endeavoured to be a helpful influence in the community and have supported many worthy interests. They have met regularly every month, the teachers assisting in every way they could with discussions on various subjects. Plays, demonstrations of folk dancing and tumbling have been presented, as well as several musical selections given by the students.

The Fifty Dollar Scholarship and framed certificate, donated by the Association, was presented this year to Vera Johnston on the Parents' Night in November. An enjoyable evening at bridge for parents and friends was held in February, and the Graduation Dance with Johnny Blachly and his orchestra in attendance, made a pleasant closing of the season. This successful event was convened by Mrs. L. B. Yule and her committee.

Through the co-operation of Mr. Buchanan and the Calgary Home and School Association, Mr. J. Galperin and his Junior Symphony Orchestra entertained the students of C.C.I.

Boys' Hi-Y

As the year comes to a close, the Hi-Y looks back with pride on having completed a highly successful term. Among its activities were the sale of the School Sweaters, the War Memorial Stamp Drive, assisting with the Track Meet, helping to arouse a School Spirit, advertising the School Dances, and handling the door.

The Hi-Y undertook to sponsor a War Stamp Drive for the purpose of putting it towards a War Memorial for the ex-Centralites who have paid "The Supreme Sacrifice". At the conclusion of the drive the Club had collected certificates to the value of $140.00.

One of the highlights of the year was the address given by Mr. J. W. Churchill on "School Spirit". Other outstanding events of the year were: an address by Mr. Pulleyblank on "The Riddle of the Universe"; an address by Dr. Molnar, who spoke on "Is a World Religion Possible?"; a talk by Mr. D. Stapells, Program Secretary of the Y.M.C.A., on "Charles Kettering". A debate entitled "Classics versus Swing" was presented by D. McCullough, G. McCullough, B. Burnand, and F. Ward, B. Mitchell and J. Munson. A very profitable year was brought to a close by the annual banquet and show.

Central School Song

This year, through the efforts of a group of musical-minded Hi-Y girls, Central has an official school song.

Oh, Central High! In praise of you we sing!
Across the skies our glorious echoes ring;
Thy sons and daughters we are proud to be,
Our voices swell a mighty song of victory.
With spirits fair and true our teams will play;
No matter what the odds, we know that they
Will do their very best to score away—
And win the day
For Central High;

These words, sung to the tune of the Washington and Lee Swing March, make a song that is stirring, and one to be proud of.

- (1) Hit him again!
- (3) . . . and yell like blazes.
- (5) He'll make it.
- (7) Southern exposure.

- (2) Have a bite.
- (4) The massage.
- (6) Tasty, Bob?
- (8) Gentlemen of leisure.

Kappa Kappa Tau

This Fraternity is the oldest at Central, and was inaugurated in 1926. Through the years it has gained the reputation of being the outstanding fraternity of the city. As is its custom every year of initiating new members, seven new members were inducted into the fraternity, swelling the total to 18 active members.

The K.K.T. has completed a very successful season socially and financially. Activities of the year included several large house parties, a hay ride, a rummage sale, and was highlighted by a very well attended dance, "The Criminal Capers", held at Penley's in December. The main undertaking of the fraternity for the school this year was the presenting of three Athletic Memorial Awards to commemorate the memory of Joe Dutton, Tom Barr and D'Arcy Scott. This presentation of three white sweaters, will be made annually to the three outstanding athletes in Grades 10, 11 and 12. The fraternity closed their activities for the year with their Annual Anniversary Banquet, celebrating their 18th anniversary, held at the Glencoe in June.

It is our aim to do something every two weeks and it has developed into a series of breakfast parties, house parties, a very remunerative raffle, the proceeds of which were given to the "Fire Fund", a hay ride, with one more coming up before the end of the year, dining and dancing at Shangri-La, and our yearly dance, "The Phi Fantasy", which was a great success--socially.

In April, three more members were inducted into the Fraternity: Don Campbell, Jack Miller and Ronnie Newbourn.

The Fraternity, strong in its theme that a fraternity is a social organization, held many successful activities, the outstanding one being the "Banshee Boogie Ball" at the Rendezvous. This very successful dance was featured for its galaxy of zany stunts. Other activities included a hay ride, Barn Dance, weiner singe, raffle, and several house parties at Love's, Adams', Heney's, Mayhew's, Watson's and Moore's.

SUBJECT TO SUBJECTS

Current events and governments
And Post-War Reconstruction,
Forty minutes of all the news
And my mind has ceased to function.

Slopes and sines and sectors too,
And an analytical problem,
Why wasn't I born a Kupperman
So I'd be able to solve 'em.

Gymnosperms, Gametophytes
And Monocotyledon,
Not only must you know what they are
But you have to know how to read 'em.

Activities

Indicative, Intransitive
Advertrial phrases and clauses,
I used to be able to talk a streak
Now my speech is full of pauses.

Hydrometer, Hygrometer,
A difference of just one letter,
Its a dirty trick but remember them
If you want to pass, you'd better!

Gradients, parabolas,
Ratio and proportion,
Two and two just used to be four
But now it's a whole contortion.

Verbal nouns, subjunctive too
And Passive Periphrastic,
It seems to me, I need a mind
Both agile and elastic.

Byron, Shakespeare and Tennyson
I'm sure you will agree,
That future generations
Won't have to study me.

—Sabine Joffe.

"No, suh," replied the young man gloomily. "Ah was eliminated in the semi-finals."

"Mother is the necessity of invention," said the Co-ed as she crawled in the window at 5 a.m.

Deacon (awakening from a sound sleep)—"Lead yourself, I just dealt."

AFTER VICTORY --

The "World of Tomorrow" Will Be in Your Hands

Students who once trod the corridors of Learning that you now tread are pressing forward to Victory on the battlefronts of the world. They fight to preserve the Way of Life that your forefathers fought for and passed on to you. But after Victory . . . what then?

Will the Nation remember the lessons we have so bitterly been taught—that Freedom, too, has its price—that Citizenship is everybody's responsibility?

Much of the responsibility lies on your shoulders—for you, and your generation, will be the leaders of Canada in the years that lie ahead.

No woman really makes a fool out of a man. She merely gives him an opportunity to develop his natural capacities.

Woman (in a crowded car, to her friend)—"I wish that good-looking man would give me his seat."

Five men got up!

There was a heavy storm at sea and a nervous woman passenger went to the captain.

"Captain," she asked, "are we in great danger?"

"Madam," he replied, "we are in the hands of God."

"Oh," she exclaimed, "is it as bad as that?"

Grandpappy Morgan, an Alberta Hillbilly, had wandered off into the hills and when suppertime came and he failed to return, young Jake was sent out to search for him and bring him in. Jake located Grandpappy standing quietly in a clump of bushes. "Gettin' dark, Grandpap," said Jake.

"Yep," said Grandpappy.

"Supper's ready."

"Yep."

"Ain't ye hungry, Grandpap?"

"Yep."

"Wal, ain't ye comin' home?"

"Why not?"

"Can't."

"My feet are sticking out of the covers."

"Why don't you pull them in?"

"I don't want those cold things in bed with me!"

Mess Sergeant—"You're not eating your fish. What's wrong with it?"
Soldier—"Long time no sea."

A shabbily dressed man was standing in front of a block of flats and from her window above, an old lady noticed that several people stopped and gave him money. The scene touched her deeply. She wrote on a piece of paper, "Take courage," put it in an envelope with a $2 bill, and tossed it to the man.

That evening the man came up to her and whispered, "Here's your $40. lady. Take Courage won at 20 to 1."

A man hit me with a car. I said, "Whats the idea? You had plenty of room. Why didn't you go around me?" He said, "I'm sorry but I only have an A card."

I have searched through all the year books,
From the time of nineteen-nine,
But all the jokes seen corny,
To this feeble brain of mine,
And if I hear one giggle,
One small sweet laugh of glee,
I can then die happy,
For that's quite enough for me.

A woman driver stopped for a red light, and failed to move when it turned green. When the green light came on for the second time and she still showed no sign of moving, the traffic officer waled over to her and said politely, "What's the matter lady, ain't we got no colors you like?"

He—"You look sweet enough to eat."

She—"I do eat. Let's go!"

Old jokes are best. Like the one about the man who, about to be hanged, was asked if he had anything to say, and his answer was, "Yes, Sir. I want to say that this is going to be a lesson to me."

Or the one about the traveller in the mountains who saw an old man sitting at a cabin door, and asked, "Have you been living here all your life?" To which the old gent replied patiently, "Not yit."

The Indians used to broadcast messages by holding a wet blanket over a fire. Now we have radio and the wet blankets talk in person.

He replied: "My mother told me my wedding night would be the most beautiful night of my life, and I'm not going to miss a minute of it."

A French girl visiting this country was introduced to an elderly bishop, who, she was told, was about to celebrate his golden wedding.
